

ProStep has created a national clinical network of over 2800 therapists. ProStep provides a continuum of care to meet all stages of the rehabilitative process working towards safe, independent, and functional outcomes. Our goal is to progress our patients through transitional stages to continuously improve their critical skills and abilities. Our leadership team, which prides itself on open communication, has facilitated an environment that encourages and recognizes clinicians who share ideas and successes, exchange clinical approaches, and develop clinical programs.
